Hot Tip

O.K. to Oak
 Several types of wine do well when oaked, most notably Cabernet, Chardonnay, Merlot, Sauvignon Blanc, Pinot Noir, Bordeaux styles, Chianti, Burgundy, Fume Blanc, Semillon, Pinot Gris, Shiraz, and Pinot Blanc, just to name a few. Generally speaking, German wines are not usually oaked.

"News" is Not News to Me

By Tom Burgiss

As anyone here at grapestompers will tell you, I like to keep up with the latest happenings and news in the world. I read constantly and am always bringing articles into the grapestompers office to share with people that I feel might be important to them or their families.

I was reading the US News recently and came across an article that had information about the health benefits of certain nutrients. Scratching my head I thought, this is not news to me. As a retired pharmacist and now winemaker, I knew a lot about the benefits of many of these fruits and have always tried to share this good information with my customers.

For those of you who may not know about this though, let me share with you some of the healthy things these fruits are known to be associated with and some of the wines that we offer here at grapestompers that contain them. This makes being healthy much easier!

Cherries—eases joint discomfort—Black Cherry Pinot Noir #VC0363

Peaches—supports digestion—Peach Perfection #3280

Strawberries—protects against free radicals—Strawberry Sensation #3289

Mangos—boosts energy levels—Strawberry Mango Moscato #VC4582

Coconut—supports normal blood sugar levels—Tropical Lime #4881 (yes, it does have coconut in the kit even though it is called "lime")

Blackberries—promotes heart health—Blackberry Blast Explosion #3164

Pineapple—aids in digestion—Banana Pineapple Paradise #3252

Red Raspberries—supports heart health—Rockin' Raspberry Rose #3278

Blueberries—supports healthy brain function—Blueberry Bliss #3279

Acai—supports heart health—Acai Raspberry Rapture #3264

Pomegranate—supports heart health—BluePom White Merlot #VC0372 (again, two benefits in one kit with blueberries and pomegranate)

Cranberries—supports digestive health—Cranberry Craze #3168

So we can surely say that not only is drinking good wine fun, but it's also good for you. Make some today and help yourself stay healthy!

While we are on the subject of kits, this month I have a very special deal for you—two kits at rock-bottom pricing instead of one to celebrate Merry December. First is #3229 VDV White Zinfandel, 9L regular price $79.90 for only $49.95. Next is VC787 California Connoisseur Sauvignon Blanc, 7.5L regular $72.66, sale $49.95. As always, the sale price is only available at grapestompers in Laurel Springs and only while supplies last.

Wishing you and your family a very Merry Christmas and a Happy Wine-Filled New Year!

Customer Feedback

Hi Tom, Hi Pam, please process my order. You have always been fair and my inventory is running LOW!

Tim Killian

So glad to see you guys still at it! I stopped by there while I was road-tripping through the mountains on a Saturday something like twenty years ago. You had been featured in the NC tourism guide and it seemed like a neat place to stop. Had great conversations with Tom about wine making, and how his internet connection had totally changed his business. Even came back Sunday to the Dance Barn for brunch.

New York, NY

Thanks Pam. I appreciate your help.

Hi there Pam, Thanks for responding to me so quickly. I do appreciate your looking into the labels for me. They will make my first wine production so much more exciting to share with others!

Corky's Corner

Winemaking Definition

Autolysis

Flinty usually describes dry white wines, such as chablis and sancerre, with an aroma of flint striking steel.

This character is believed to come from the limestone soil in which the grapes were grown and is a positive attribute.

Hidden Special for December #2254A Bottle Drainer, 45 bottles, regular $29.90, this month only $19.95. Be sure to mention the Hidden Special when ordering.

Wine on Stable Ground

Wine is stabilized to stop fermentation so that remaining yeast does not re-ferment added or residual sugar after bottling and cause the bottles to explode or the cork to pop out. Add ¼ teaspoon per gallon of potassium sorbate prior to bottling to stabilize wine. grapestompers recommends using one crushed Campden tablet per gallon of wine along with the sorbate, because sorbate tends to work better in the presence of sulfites.

What Goes With Port? Anything!

By Pam Wyatt

I have been a port fan since Tom gave me a taste way back in 2005 when I began working at grapestompers. I was sure this was the best thing I had ever tasted and pretty much, still feel the same way. Believe it or not, I have even made a couple of ports myself. I have 1 bottle left from an Orange Chocolate Port that I made in 2007 which my son informed me was going to be opened at his wedding.... guess we will never be drinking that bottle!

We all know that port is good with chocolate, but while reading an email article recently called The Daily Sip by Bottlenotes, I found some interesting port pairings that I had never imagined before and I just want to share some of them with you. This is the time of year most folks like to enjoy port, so I know many of you have one brewing as we speak.

White Port – Made from white port grapes, this style with refreshing acidity can be subtly sweet or completely dry. It is classically paired with salty nuts such as almonds but it also is very good with seafood such as crab cakes or smoked salmon.

Ruby Port – One of my favorites, is bold and fruity. With flavors of cherries, berries, spices and vanilla, Ruby Port pairs well with chocolate but also complements blue cheese, brownies and blackberry pie.

Tawny Port – The rusty colored Tawny Port gets its color from being aged a while. The color becomes more pale but the flavors pop with nutty and caramel notes. Try this port with aged gouda cheese, nuts and pecan pie.... yes, pecan pie!

Vintage Port - Refers to a rare jewel of port that has been aged from 10-50 years or more. Needless to say, not many people get to enjoy these but if you do, try matching with the finest cheese, fresh roasted nuts or chocolate.

I couldn't talk about all these pairings without telling you about my favorite....vanilla ice cream. You can pour a bit of port on top like chocolate syrup....yum! This combination also works well with sherry. Tom taught me that trick too, by the way!
